CITY ELECTION WILL BE HELD APRIL 8

THREE TRUSTEES, CLERK, TREASURER TO ELECT.

ALL MUST REGISTER TO VOTE

School Election Will Be Held April Fifth; Two High and One Grammar Trustee To Be Elected.

There will be several elections held during the calendar year of 1918, and every voter who desires to participate in the privilege of exercising the right of franchise on these important occasions must register.

The ball will be opened up on Friday afternoon, April 8th, when there will be an election to fill two vacancies on the High school board and one on the Grammar school board.

The term of Dr. S. G. Huff, president of the High school board, and W. T. Newland will expire. The term of Mrs. W. T. Newland, member of the Grammar school board, will expire in April.

The next round will occur April 8th, when the city election will be held. There will be three trustees, treasurer and clerk to elect. The terms of Trustees Tarbox, Huston and Vavra will expire, as will those of City Clerk Chas. R. Nutt and City Treasurer C. E. Lavering.

So far as known, few candidates have been mentioned for any of these positions, and none of the incumbents are seeking re-election. However, most of them will accept the office they are now holding if the voters desire to re-elect them.

The only one of the city officials that has positively declined to accept office again under any circumstances is Will Tarbox, chairman of the board of city trustees. Trustee Tarbox states that there is no use for anyone to consider voting for him, because he will not serve another term. There is no doubt about the friends of Mr. Tarbox being numerous enough to elect him by a large majority if he would accept the honor again.

All of the others have a large following of friends who will be glad to work for their re-election, and it is believed that most of them will accept another term.

It is likely that the next election will then be that of the one submitting the proposition of voting bonds for the improvement of Newport harbor.

Then will follow the primary for the selection of candidates for state, county and township officers. This will take place August 27th, and the election will follow on November 5th.

The last legislature passed a law covering school elections, and this year regular ballots will be provided by County Superintendent R. P. Mitchell, and candidates must file their intention with the clerk of the school board five days prior to the election so that his or her name may appear on the official ballot.

Remember, if you want to vote it is necessary to register. Registration books are open at Obarr's drug store, Judge Warner's office and Franklin & Brown's barber shop. S. E. Hearn also is authorized to register voters. Better register at once, so the matter may not be overlooked.

FINISHED BIG TRENCH JOB AT SAN BERNARDINO.

I. J. Clark, the trench contractor, has returned from San Bernardino, where he has been for seven weeks with his machine digging trenches for drain tile. The contract covered about seven miles of trench work.

Mr. Clark started work Thursday on a contract for the Haven Tomato Seed Co. on a tract of land southwest of Santa Ana.

EXAMINATIONS WILL BEGIN SATURDAY.

Nineteen men have been called from this district for physical examination in Fullerton, Saturday, January 26th, among them being William R. Anderson and Harvey A. Warner of this section of the district.

MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

GOOD PROGRAM RENDERED TUESDAY EVENING.

The first meeting of the year of the Parent-Teacher Association was held in the auditorium of the Grammar school, Tuesday night, and was one of the most entertaining held in many months.

Miss Lucile Davenport, with her Grammar school orchestra, delighted the audience with some patriotic numbers. The orchestra was assisted by Franklyn E. Skinner, vice-principal, with his violin.

Principal Harold H. Campbell made some explanatory remarks relative to the notices sent to parents in regard to the physical examinations to be made in compliance with the state law. Mr. Campbell desired it understood that the examinations were not being imposed by the School Board for the benefit of the medical profession.

Mr. Skinner continued the review of "Schools of Tomorrow," by Dewey, and proved himself to be an interesting entertainer, handling his subject with ease and thoroughness. His remarks covered the second and third chapters of the book, most of his talk being given to the second chapter, which describes a school conducted at Fairhope, Ala., by Mrs. Johnson. There are no prescribed courses of study in this school, it being conducted similar to the modern kindergarten department. The first period is devoted to play, the second to observation, the third to story telling, and the fourth to work. The work consists of constructing something, no matter what it may be. Mr. Skinner said that, while the "Schools of Tomorrow" were considered a dream by many, he hoped to see them become real in the near future.

The orchestra was composed of Katherine Onson, Delite McIntosh, Hazel Wardwell, violins; Kenneth Snyder, drum; Gifford Kutzner, horn; Irene Hodge and Miss Davenport at the piano.

An interesting talk on the Junior Red Cross work was delivered by Mrs. Dr. Raiche of Balboa. She explained that to organize the public schools it was necessary to have the co-operation of all the pupils, with a pledge from each that the sum of 25 cents would be contributed, either in money or salvage. Dr. Raiche said that, while the movement was somewhat embryonic, the experience in the Santa Ana schools proved that most of the money was raised by salvage, and it was surprising how much could be gathered by the children when they once became interested. She stated that she would be pleased to assist in any way that she could to start such an organization in Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Owen D. Peters, president of the association, presided and introduced the speakers.

Mrs. Valentine Cunningham of the Cunningham Conservatory of Music and Arts, rendered a piano solo and accompanied Betty and Nella Onson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Onson, in their charming little song. Betty is a talented child, and, with proper training, should be able to appear as an entertainer at an early age.

Other numbers of the program were: Grammar school orchestra; piano solo, Irene Hodge; vocal duet, Pauline Manning and Hazel Wardwell; song, Betty and Nella Onson; piano solo, Mrs. Cunningham.

DO YOU WANT TO SERVE ON ELECTION BOARD?

IF SO, FILE YOUR APPLICATION WITH CITY CLERK.

Those who desire to serve on the election board for the city election, to be held Monday, April 8th, should file their applications with City Clerk Chas. R. Nutt, and selections will be made from the list of names on file.

SHORT SESSION OF THE CITY TRUSTEES

ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO BREAD PASSED.

WILL MEET MONDAY NIGHT

Donated $25 to California Traffic Officers Ass'n.; Junk Dealers to be Licensed; Emergency Hospital Favored.

There was a short session of the city trustees Monday night. President of the Board Will Tarbox was absent and Trustee D. W. Huston was elected president pro tem.

A petition signed by Judge C. W. Warner and other members of the Methodist church, asking for a light at Eleventh street and Orange avenue, was read by City Clerk Chas. R. Nutt, and referred to City Manager Spencer.

A communication was also read from the California Traffic Officers Association of San Mateo, asking the city to donate not less than $25 toward the support of the association. According to the letter, there are no salaried officers, and the object is to standardize traffic rules throughout the entire country. The membership was stated as being $3 per annum, which included the official publication.

After some discussion, and the objects of the association were approved by City Marshal John Tinsley, Trustee Vavra moved that the city donate $25, and also pay for a membership for the city marshal, which carried after being seconded by Trustee Chapin.

An ordinance regulating the weight and sale of bread was passed and appears in this issue of the News.

An ordinance was introduced providing for the licensing of junk dealers, and another making it a penalty for anyone to have in their possession any automobile from which the engine number or any other mark of identification had been removed; also an ordinance making it a penalty for anyone to keep a dog without a license tag, which will be provided by the city. Marshal Tinsley stated that there had been a large number of stray dogs in the city for several months, and that he had killed 30 since July of last year.

Trustee Chapin asked Mr. Spencer about the labor situation, saying that he thought now was the time to do what work was required, rather than wait until later when labor and teams would be scarce. After some discussion it was decided to clean up and plow the block where the Grammar school building formerly stood.

Dr. G. A. Shank said that he had been asked if he would build an extension on the city hall for an emergency hospital, and replied that he would do so, but said he had a room in the rear of his office that was seldom used, and if the city desired to furnish it there would be no charge for rent. The matter was referred to the city manager, with authority to furnish the room.

THINKS SMALL BEANS MAY SUPERSEDE LIMAS

ABOUT SIXTY DAYS LONGER GROWING SEASON.

R. C. Masters, a successful rancher residing north of the La Bolsa tile factory, states that he has found the Lady Washington bean is a more profitable crop than the lima. Especially is this true of the mesa land; and he is inclined to think that in time the smaller bean may be preferred by those who farm the famous peatlands, noted for the production of limas.

Mr. Masters points out that the small bean can be planted any time from April to July, affording a growing season of about 60 days in favor of the small bean, which, if planted early, can be harvested long before the early rains.

A crop of barley can be grown and harvested before the small beans are planted, and the beans can be harvested as early as the limas.

Mr. Masters says that since the state university found how to prevent weavel in the small beans grown in this section of the state, there is no doubt but what the Lady Washington is growing in favor, and will continue to do so with growers.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL FOR MRS. R. E. GRAVES.

The many friends of Blanche L. Graves, wife of Ralph E. Graves, of Tucson, Arizona, were shocked Monday morning when telegrams to friends in this city notified them of the passing away of Mrs. Graves, Sunday. Mr. Graves arrived in Long Beach with the remains Tuesday, and funeral services were held there Wednesday at 2 o'clock. The interment was in the Long Beach cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves were residents of this city for 11 years, moving to Los Angeles last July for the benefit of the health of Mrs. Graves. About six weeks ago they moved to Tucson, hoping the change would be beneficial.

The high standing of the deceased in Huntington Beach was attested by the large delegation that attended the services Wednesday, which were in charge of the Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Graves was a member. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

Mr. Graves has the sympathy of the community in his great bereavement.

RUMORS SAY THEY WILL START DRILLING IN 60 DAYS.

(Newport News.)

Agents of the Standard Oil Company, according to reports that have been filtering into the News office for the past week, has quietly secured leases on approximately 2,000 acres of prospective oil land on Newport Heights and will commence active work within sixty days. The Standard Oil Company has the Banning tract, which, with the Irvine tract, totals about 2,000 acres, and when they start after oil, the past history of the famous oil company is that they usually get what they go after.

There is another persistent report that a company, whose name is kept in the dark, but purported to be one of the big companies in the game, has also taken some options near the old Newport well and will begin drilling in a short time. Perhaps, after all, the dreams of an oil field on the Heights will come true, and hopes for a cheap fuel for manufacturing industries will be realized. Anyway, optimism doesn't cost us a cent, and the man who looks on the favorable side of a question is the man who makes it possible for the wheels of progress to turn.

Judge J. W. Shirley has sold his Dodge car to C. W. Weddle, who is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert. This was the second Dodge that Judge Shirley bought from T. B. Talbert & Co.

MRS. L. W. STEARNS PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY.

Mrs. Sarah Reynolds Stearns, wife of Leander W. Stearns, passed away at the family home Wednesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Stearns have been respected residents of Huntington Beach for the past ten years. Mrs. Stearns was born in Oakland county, Michigan, July 14th, 1839. Her father and mother were Christians, and she had the benefit of being reared in religious environments. She was the youngest of thirteen children, and the last one to pass away. Mrs. Stearns was converted at the age of thirteen, and joined the Methodist church, having been a member for more than sixty-four years. She and Mr. Stearns were united in marriage July 4th, 1855, at Lamont, Ottawa county, Michigan, and moved to Minnesota in the spring of 1860, living a frontier life for forty years. During their pioneer life they organized twelve Sunday schools and assisted in opening up eight new settlements, all in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Stearns moved to California in 1902, locating at Redlands, where they resided until coming to Huntington Beach in 1907.

Mrs. Stearns was known as a beautiful Christian character, loving mother, kind and affectionate wife and good neighbor.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon, with Rev. R. I. McKee, pastor of the church, in charge, assisted by Rev. W. L. Miller, a former pastor. The interment will be in the Huntington Beach cemetery.

Twelve children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Stearns, nine of whom survive, three having passed away in infancy. Seven of the children were at home when the mother departed. The surviving children, according to ages, are: Mrs. C. J. Gardner of Huntington Beach; Mrs. A. W. Wilson of Seattle, Washington; Mrs. B. F. Lindsley and Mrs. L. J. Stearns of Huntington Beach; Mrs. J. L. Hiler of Erskine, Minnesota; F. R. Stearns of Los Angeles; M. B. Stearns of Santa Ana; Mrs. W. H. Bolton and L. B. Stearns of Yuma, Arizona.

EFFORT TO BLOCK SUGAR BEET GROWING.

OUTSIDERS SAID TO BE WORKING AMONG FARMERS.

Discussing editorially the reported agitation among farmers of the question of diverting acreage from beets to more profitable crops, "Facts About Sugar" says in a recent issue:

"The line between conduct that is within the limits of each individual's right to utilize his labor and resources as he sees fit and that which is disloyal because it hampers the nation's efficiency in meeting the demands created by the war may be a narrow one, but it is perfectly distinct. It is beginning to be evident that the efforts to prevent the planting of a normal acreage of sugar beets during the coming year is of the latter sort.

"Leaving aside all question of the necessities of the war and the course dictated by patriotism, under present circumstances it is the recognized province of each farmer to decide whether he shall grow wheat or beets or beans or some other crop that his personal preference or his estimate of probable financial returns may dictate. So long as this choice is exercised by the individual farmer on his own initiative there is little likelihood of complaint even now, although the need of the American people and of the Allies for more sugar has led to special appeals from representatives of the Government for an increased acreage devoted to this crop.

"The significant feature of the agitation among the farmers to block sugar beet growing is that it has appeared simultaneously in widely separated sections of the country, and that it has not sprung from local dissatisfaction with conditions, but has been inspired and directed in most instances by outside interests or by professional agitators. The form and tenor of the statements put out in the course of the effort to foment trouble between the beet growers and the sugar companies give strong internal evidence of the source from which their inspiration has been drawn, and it is an interest distinctly unfriendly to American sugar production.

"An added indication of the fact that an effort is on foot to cripple one of the nation's important energy-producing industries rather than to compose any well founded grievances that may exist is given by the fact that when a set of demands submitted to the sugar companies has been granted by them new and excessive demands are immediately presented.

"The effort to hamper the production of food supplies in the United States during the coming year is not confined entirely to the sugar industry, although it has been especially noteworthy in that industry. The reports of the Secret Service on file in Washington are said, on good authority, to contain an astounding volume of evidence pointing to organized efforts to injure the nation and the cause in which it is engaged in just such ways as have been employed in recent weeks among the beet growers of the country. If the patriotic farmers of the country realized the real animating purpose behind the effort being made to use them as tools against the cause for which their sons and brothers are fighting they would make short work of the movement."

CARD OF THANKS.

We, the undersigned, desire to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends for their kindness, assistance and beautiful floral offerings, truly from the heart, in the past few days of affliction in the loss of a wife, mother, daughter and sister:

Woman's Club.

There was no program announced for the Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon, but those who attended enjoyed a most interesting and patriotic talk by Mrs. Harriett H. Barry, chairman of the extension committee of the Woman's City Club of Los Angeles. Mrs. Barry said we could help our town by co-operating with our moving picture exhibitor, and, instead of making long trips to Los Angeles, patronize the theatre in Huntington Beach. She thought good results could be obtained to secure pictures of educational value by the appointment of an advisory committee from different organizations, part of the members to be teachers, and all other members to be ones who keep up with the moving picture movement. Different members testified that some of the best and latest pictures have been shown at the Princess Theatre in Huntington Beach. Mrs. Barry stated that the moving picture business now ranked fifth among the industries of the country. Mrs. Barry also discussed the Red Cross work, saying that it was the greatest civic work that any community could be interested in at this time. The next meeting of the club will be held February 12th. A piano solo, "Dause Ecassaese," (Baker), by Mrs. E. A. Maher, was appreciated.

HUNTINGTON BEACH GRAMMAR SCHOOL SPECIAL.

At a meeting of the Board, held on January 11th, 1918, the following motion was passed: "In view of the fact that the state legislature requires that every pupil be given 20 minutes physical exercise daily, and in order to secure the greatest benefit from this required work and to safeguard the interests of pupils and teachers, a physical examination is necessary. The Board makes physical exercise obligatory from now on, unless the child is physically unfit."

The principal of the school will give each pupil an examination blank, which asks for age, weight, height, expansion, condition of nose, throat, heart, eyes, teeth, ears, etc. This blank is to be taken to the pupil's family physician. If the pupil has no regular family physician or should not return the blank, the school trustees will provide a physician to examine the pupil. The clothing of the girls will not have to be removed.

Those parents that are conscientiously opposed to a physical examination of their children, or object to it for various reasons, may sign a statement asking for exemption for their children. The parents ought to assume, when filling out these statements, all responsibility of any bad effect that might arise from the physical training. There is small need to worry in this respect. Here is a sample statement: "I object to the physical examination and ask that (Names and Grades) be excused from the same. I assume all responsibility of the physical exercise."

You can readily see that medical examination is not forced on anyone, nor does it permit a few conscientious objectors to force their opinions or beliefs on the rest. One man cried out that the schools were to educate and not to medicate, and that the medical profession was encouraging this scheme. The medical profession has not sought this, because it takes so much of their time and pays them so little for it. Some of the biggest educators of the country, government statistics composed during the draft examination, teachers (assembled at Institute about 500 strong) cry out or resolute for a scientific test, to show whether much of the usual disease, death, ill health and physical defects might not be prevented by taking proper precautions in time. Out of about 800 High school students at Santa Ana, only 38 were not allowed to be examined. This goes to show that parents do want to know if anything is wrong with the bodies of their children. You do not want your children's later afflictions and sufferings and the attending misery caused by these preventable ailments to be a life reproach decisions of today.

This is the time when our government, fighting for its freedom and life, needs all our possible energy for fighting the war, supporting at home, and to prepare for the great economic race after the war.

If the schools are to be "Factories for Democracy" they must encourage both physical and mental fitness in pupils.

Our Board of Trustees and our County Superintendent are to be congratulated upon their foresight, up-to-dateness and patriotism.

Grammar School Edition.

In order to boost the "Community Spirit," the Board and the News are in favor of another School Edition of our local paper. It will contain a less number of articles, but they will be fuller and will try to show the latest in education, and possibly the school expenditure in itemized form. Let us build together.

IF ANYONE

In this country thinks that the war is about over, because of the newspaper talk about the little dissentions in the Hun armies, they have another think a coming. This old United States of America is just getting ready, and the Huns are waiting for our boys to get "over there." Bye and bye they will be coming back to us in a condition almost unrecognizable—then we will wake up to the fact that we are really at war.

Still, we should not let this war interfere with our business. We need to keep up business to keep up the war until it's over.

New Pupil.

Emily Wolf of Bridgeport, Conn., has entered the 4th grade. She is Dr. Chapin's niece.

Physical Exercise.

It will probably work out so that Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays will be known as the big days for physical exercise, for on these days the men will take large groups of boys during the afternoon recess. Miss Mitchell will take the girls. It will be necessary to first organize the handling and movements of large groups and then will follow the setting up exercises, calisthenics, games, relays, etc. The place will be in the big outdoors. The girls do not want any special suits now. We have not the time needed for the double change. The clothes should be free enough to allow bending or shoulder exercises. Pupils will march out of their rooms in single file, the boys passing beyond the girls. After the exercises, the pupils will march only as far as the front steps of the building. Then walk into the building as ladies and gentlemen. When you grow into men and women, you will walk into public places. If there are any questions, hand them into the office.

Eighth Grade Will Knit.

The 8th grade class has decided to devote the last school hour of each Friday afternoon to knitting, tatting and crocheting. The boys are just as enthusiastic about this work as their girl classmates. Material will be furnished by each pupil and brought to school. The articles made by the class will be displayed at the next school exhibit.

Class officers of the 8th grade met Tuesday and decided to have a class party February 1st, at the home of their class teacher, Franklyn Skinner. A vote was taken and every pupil voted for the affirmative. Special games will be played, and something different in the line of refreshments served.

WEEKLY GREETING.

Then to side with Truth is noble when we share her wretched crust,
Ere her cause bring fame and profit, and 'tis prosperous to be just;
Then it is the brave man chooses, while the coward stands aside,
Doubting in his abject spirit, till his Lord is crucified,
And the multitude make virtue of the faith they had denied. —Lowell.

ARE YOU ONE OF THE HALF-VOTERS?

There will be some important elections this year, and every citizen who has not done so should register and be qualified to participate in these governmental functions.

There will be two important matters before the next legislature, the amendments prohibiting the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors in the United States, and that of extending the voting franchise to the female population of the nation. It is decidedly important that the assemblyman from Orange county be one who will favor these great reform movements, in which each and every citizen should be interested.

There are many voters who decline to state their party affiliations when registering. This is a serious mistake on the part of the good citizens who have fallen into the habit, as they are disqualified from any activity in the primary election. At the primary election the matter of who will be the candidates at the final election is determined. Therefore, the primary election is always of great importance, and it frequently occurs that it is of more importance than the general election, as, by the process of elimination at the primary, it is possible that some of the best candidates fail to secure positions on the ballot for the second election. Again, it often occurs that candidates are elected at the primary election, and in such cases the one who fails to designate his party affiliation has no voice whatever in the matter.

For a voter to register as a member of some party is no indication of partisanship, as that day has passed, and the average voter no longer votes a "straight" ticket, if he feels that there are candidates on some other ticket better qualified.

So long as the Republic is governed through parties, there appears to be no good excuse for voters not registering as members of some party, in order to exercise their full election privileges, as the non-stated elector is only a half-voter.

BUSINESS OF THE GROCERTERIA GROWING.

SATURDAY WAS THE BANNER DAY.

Although this is commonly supposed to be the dull season of the year, business at Lee's Grocerteria is increasing, Saturday of last week being the banner day in the volume of business transacted since the store was opened.

The reason is obvious, as Mr. Lee's method of doing business eliminates most of the expense required to conduct the grocery business along old-fashioned lines, which enables him to sell goods at very attractive prices.

LIGHT RAIN THURSDAY NIGHT.

Rain started falling Thursday night at 7:30, with fine prospects for a good storm, but a west wind soon shattered the good beginning, and only .07 of an inch fell, according to the gauge at the Holly sugar factory. The moisture to date is the lightest in many years, but there is still plenty of time for rain enough to insure good crops of the staple products.

The total for the season to date is 1.08 inches.

NEW CLASS IN SPANISH MAY BE ORGANIZED.

IF TEN OR MORE DESIRE THE INSTRUCTION.

There have been some inquiries about taking Spanish in the night class at the High school by those who apparently do not care to enter the class that is now somewhat advanced, and if there are ten or more who desire such instruction, a new class will be organized. Application may be made to Principal V. B. Brown or Mrs. T. B. Talbert.

DOES NOT NOTICE COAL SHORTAGE IN EAST.

Mrs. T. B. Talbert has received a letter from Mr. Talbert, who is in New York City, saying that, while everything is covered with snow and frozen, he has kept warm and has seen little evidence of the fuel shortage so widely advertised. Mrs. Talbert received a Christmas card today from Argentine, South America, it having been more than a month in the mails.

HIGH SCHOOL HOROSCOPE.

The afternoon dress making class, under the supervision of Mrs. Edmiston, is a decided success. The enrollment of the class is as follows: Ethel Dunning, Gladys D. Thatcher, Clara Maher, Minnie McCreery, Mable Marple, Esther D. McElfresh, Frances D. Copeland, Lessie A. Copeland, Ethel Catching, Bertha Brown, Ola H. Pann, Anna R. Taylor, Eva Bowman, Nona Obarr, Myrtle Borchard, Margaret Talbert, Minnie Steele, Grave Tompson, Mrs. C. Burleycamp. The class meets at 2:20 Mondays and Thursdays. A free bus from down town.

Miss Martha Trafford is now in charge of the freehand drawing work. Miss Trafford's education was gained at Big Rapids, Michigan, where she took her High school work and four years' normal training at Ferris Institute. This was followed by two years at Pratt Institute in New York. Miss Trafford also relieves Miss Miller in the commercial department, so that Miss Miller can take charge of the evening typing class. This class will meet Mondays and Thursdays. The bus will leave the bank building at 7:30, coming up Ocean avenue and Seventeenth street. It will return to the city after the nine o'clock class.

Thursday, at eleven o'clock, the service flag was dedicated. We had a good attendance of the patrons of the school, relatives of the boys, and Grammar school students. The flag contains twenty-two stars, representing the following members of the High school: Ray Schaffer, Geo. Gothard, Heath Schnitker, Ralph Mallett, Walter Graham, Henry Brooks, Forest Turner, Lewis Blodget, Glen Cole, Paul Helme, John French, Leon Olds, Ray Walker, Geo. McCrindle, Wm. Kesemann, Albert Isenor, George Heartwell, Ward Blodget, Ralph Thompson, Melvin Buster, Carrol Byram, Gerald Mitchell. This list includes only those who enlisted after war was declared. Several others will be added when the committee extends the flag to include all in service. The High school program consisted of songs by the Boys' Glee Club and Miss Marie Frenger, a reading by Miss Ritchie, a prayer by Rev. McKee and a most inspiring talk by Prof. Harold F. Hunbert, head of the Public Speaking Dept. of Pomona College. A resume of his talk will be given in next week's edition of the News.

Next Thursday, at eleven o'clock, R. L. Bisby of Santa Ana, and some business men whom he is going to enlist for our benefit, will take charge of the assembly period, presenting the proposition of the Thrift Stamps. The bus will run from down town, leaving the bank building at 10:40.

Second team journeyed over to Fullerton last Monday in their final game with Fullerton second team. At the end of the first half the score stood nineteen to two in favor of Fullerton, but during the second half the Huntington Beach boys came back and managed to hold Fullerton to seven points. At the end of the half the score stood twenty-seven all, and an extra five minutes were played, which proved disastrous for the Huntington Beach boys, Fullerton finally winning with a score of twenty-nine and twenty-seven.

AVERAGE SUGAR OUTTURN IN IDAHO AND UTAH.

PRODUCTION OF 137,250 TONS FOR 1917.

(From "Facts About Sugar.")

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 7.—Estimates obtained from the six companies operating in the Utah-Idaho territory this season place the total probable sugar production of these states for the 1917 season at 137,250 tons. The same estimates give the total beet crop handled at the factories as 1,126,000 tons. While some of the factories have not yet finished their runs, and the figures are consequently subject to revision, it is not believed by well informed sugar men that they will be much changed by the final returns, although the December crop report of the Department of Agriculture gives Utah and Idaho a probable sugar production of 146,500 tons.

Season's Results Normal.

The production thus indicated is substantially the same as that of 1916 in Utah and Idaho, which was 136,151 tons, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture. The quantity of beets worked was slightly larger than in 1916, when it was 1,039,715 tons. This season's crop was harvested from 120,000 acres, as against 110,346 acres harvested in 1916, giving an average yield in 1917 slightly under, and in 1916 slightly over, 9.4 tons to the acre.

While the result of the 1917 season, as thus indicated, is about an average one, it is disappointing to the companies and the growers after the expectations of a better showing entertained at the beginning of the year. The late spring, the long, hot summer and the continued dry weather in October are the conditions blamed by the sugar men for the failure to make a larger outturn. Not only was the yield of beets per acre less this season, as a result of these conditions, but the sugar content of the beets was markedly lower on the whole, a fact which explains the failure of the crop of this season to give more sugar than the smaller one of 1916.

Twenty-two Factories Working.

The number of factories working in Utah and Idaho this season was 22, as against 16 a year ago. Of these, 10 were owned by the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company, 8 by the Amalgamated Sugar Company and 1 each by the Delta Beet Sugar Corporation, the Layton Sugar Company, the People's Sugar Company, and the West Cache Sugar Company. Delta entered the field this season for the first time. The following are the crop figures for the several companies, as estimated:

Utah-Idaho Sugar Company: Beets paid for, 600,000 tons; sugar produced, 72,500 tons.

Amalgamated Sugar Company: Beets paid for, 400,000 tons; sugar produced, 50,000 tons.

Layton Sugar Company: Beets paid for, 44,000 tons; sugar produced, 5,750 tons.

Delta Sugar Corporation: Beets paid for, 35,000 tons; sugar produced, 3,750 tons.

West Cache Sugar Company: Beets paid for, 22,000 tons; sugar produced, 2,750 tons.

People's Sugar Company: Beets paid for, 25,000 tons; sugar produced, 2,500 tons.

The amount paid the farmers for beets by the six companies will total $7,882,000 for the season, and the amounts expended for labor, supplies, freight, coal and materials will amount to between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000.

"THE LIBERTINE" WEDNESDAY

Jackie Saunders Saturday Eve; Marjorie Rambeau Sunday Night; Big Features to Be Continued.

The attraction at the Princess theatre Saturday evening will be: "The Wildcat," featuring Jackie Saunders, known as the "Tomboy of the Screen." She is said to have ridden an ostrich 14 miles around a dirt track.

Sunday night, the chief event will be the appearance of Marjorie Rambeau, in "Mary Moreland." Miss Rambeau is one of the beautiful and graceful women in filmland today, and is also a charming dancer. She had an opportunity to become a dancer, but chose a dramatic career instead. She made a reputation on the speaking stage before becoming identified with the moving pictures. Miss Rambeau first appeared with a stock company in which her mother was one of the principals. At the age of 16 she danced for Raoul D' Artagan, a French actor, on a dark stage at the Burbank theatre in Los Angeles, and he offered her a contract as a dancer, but Miss Rambeau preferred to remain with her mother, as the stock company was soon to leave for Alaska.

The feature for Wednesday night will be: "The Libertine," of which the following is a synopsis:

"The Libertine" is a story of modern life, strong and gripping. It brings home with grim realism the great lesson that "once in every man or woman's life comes the moment to decide in the strife for truth or falsehood, for the good or evil side."

The heroine, a young girl, pure and lovely, who is the main support of her widowed mother, is engaged to marry a clean, wholesome young man, who has been her childhood's sweetheart.

Her path is crossed by the modern Libertine, the man who "can afford to play the game."

A thoroughly depraved society is always ready to make a favorite of the Libertine, who defiles pure womanhood, while his victims bear the burden of shame—alone.

A surprise finish comes like a breath of June roses, and the story ends bringing close to the hearts of the audience the powerful and timely moral of a great old play—forever new.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Patrons and Friends of the Princess Theatre:

Having given you good shows, standard productions, good variety, of good length, and counted carefully the cost, taken into consideration every saving and every expense, I find the profits nil at this price of admission. Now, in order to keep up a standard of excellence unquestioned (and it would never do to go backward) I find myself compelled to raise the price of admission, and will try and give you just a little bit better shows, a little bit better service, a little better orchestra and more good music, to prove to you and to show you I am honest in my endeavors. I will give you all of my big features I have booked, with but two exceptions, and they come late in the spring. You will have that grand serial, "The Fighting Trail," you will see Earl Williams, Alice Joyce, Anita Stuart, Frank Daniels, John Mason, Edith Strong, Antonio Moreno, etc., etc.—all of these and many more. The raise in price is not unreasonable for this class of productions, as you pay the same price in the city or in our county seat, where they give from 3 to 8 shows daily. Every Wednesday the entire house is reserved. You can buy your regular and favorite seat one week in advance and have all the big theatre advantages. Advance sale of seats at Obarr's Drug Store. Remember, you get such bills as "The Libertine," "The Glory of Yolanda," "The Whip," "The Fighting Trail," "Arsene Lupin," "Garden of Allah," "Her Secret," "The Mad Lover," "Captain of the Grey Horse Troop," "Neptune's Daughter"—all of these and many more for 15 cents, and the war tax of 2 cents; children, 5 cents and 1 cent war tax. For your consideration and patronage, I thank you.

Very respectfully,
"POP" ENDICOTT,

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to extend my sincere appreciation to the Rebekahs, Woman's Relief Corps, Daughters of Veterans, and other kind friends for assistance and for the beautiful floral offerings in my recent bereavement.

SOCIAL OR HEALTH INSURANCE UNDESIRABLE.

ORIGINATED WITH PRINCE BISMARCK.

(Henry Van Arsdale in L. A. Tribune)

A propaganda favoring compulsory social or health insurance is being disseminated throughout this state, its object being to secure an endorsement at the next general election of a proposed constitutional amendment making social insurance part of our organic law. It may be well to call attention to the origin of social insurance and its sponsors in this country. In a speech recently made before the Commercial club of San Francisco by the present chairman of the state industrial accident commission, the speaker rightly placed its origin with Prince Bismarck, who adopted it as a sop to be thrown to the discontented wage earners of Prussia. The system was born of German kultur and in that country has reached its highest expression, tending by its paternalism to extirpate the individual. It has been effective in killing initiative and destroying self-reliance on the part of the German people, making them entirely subservient to the state and perverting the true object of governmental activities.

Until this country declared war against the imperial German government the advocates of social insurance founded all their arguments on German experience. The German theory of state is the logical outcome of paternalism of the social insurance order, which results in the establishment of a ruling class and a servile class. The United States is marshaling all its resources to defeat Prussianism, while the voters and taxpayers of this state are asked to graft part of that system of autocracy on our state constitution. Dr. Frederick C. Howe, in his book, "Socialized Germany," contrasting the systems in vogue in the United States and Germany, says, "Germany has so strengthened the state as to have devitalized the individual." Coddling and spoonfeeding can have no other result.

Recognizing this situation, such labor leaders as Samuel Gompers, Warren S. Stone and many others are vigorously denouncing social insurance. No association of manufacturers is on record as favoring it. Its compulsory features are un-American and entirely foreign to our ideals. It will not decrease the burden of sickness, but will rather increase its cost. It will prevent the individual from exercising his judgment and his conscience respecting the system of treatment to which he may wish to turn when ill. It will result in state medicine, officious interference and paternalism of an order which will attempt to regulate the most sacred relations of the home life.

The report of the social insurance commission of this state gives an estimate of over $27,000,000 as the yearly cost of the system; others estimate this cost as high as $45,000,000. It is proposed by the force of law to secure 40 per cent of this from the employer, 40 per cent from the employe and 20 per cent from the state. If there were merit in the system itself, it is certain that this is not the time to push a project which calls for these enormous sums in contributions and taxation, in view of federal war necessities.

The remedy for poverty caused by sickness in the family of the honest workman is an adequate wage, not officious charity. The American wishes to spend his own earnings in his own way. The only advocates of social insurance are labor theorists who get their impulse from the self-styled American Association for Labor Legislation, which, strange to say, does not have the backing of any labor organization, but is said to be financed by the Rockefeller and Carnegie funds. A great deal of sympathetic mesmerism emanates from this source and is being repeated in this state. The effort of public officials holding sinecures to work the public up to the point of additional state appropriations to carry out their fanciful theories is shown in the extreme in this effort to Prussianize the American workman. The independence and incentive of the American workman is of the greatest importance to our system of government and to himself. A careful examination should be made of the claims of the advocates of social insurance as to its being a panacea for poverty; its tendency will be to increase poverty.

If put into effect it will result in an employer requiring a physical examination of his employes and of every applicant for work. Those who appear to be below the employer's idea of a normal standard will be refused and being out of work will not come within the terms of the propos l law, thus increasing the number of helpless unemployed. This state has a great many casual workers and a large shifting population, especially in the rural districts. This would result in the taxpayer in these districts being taxed for a system from which he could receive no benefit. Many a man who now obtains employment easily would be unable to do so because he could not pass the necessary physical examination required by those who carry the risk of insurance.

There is no relation between health insurance and accident insurance; the latter is the assumption by industries of the damage they do. Compulsory health insurance would attempt to supplement wages by a forced charity donation from employer, fellow workmen and the state to relieve conditions for which industry is in no wise responsible. If social insurance covered only occupational or vocational diseases there might be some justification for a law which would compel the industry to carry the total expense of sickness resulting therefrom. The sick man may be so because of bad habits or wrong methods of living, for which neither his employer, his fellow workman, nor the state, is in any wise responsible. It must be remembered, too, that the proposed system includes the family and dependents. It does not take a prophet to see the deadening effect of such a system upon the workman. Malingering and carelessness will increase with the indifferent and incompetent. The vitality of our nation depends upon the incentive which is characteristic of a free man; to do away with this, and at a time when we are going to war to maintain the freedom of the individual, is certainly a suggestion that can be traced back to the ruling class of the country in which social insurance originated. Social insurance is antagonistic to the principles upon which our government is founded.

"Say, Ma, where's that picture of Aunt Martha that she sent us last summer? You know, that big one in the gray folder, that was sittin' there on the piano. You don't knok? Well, gee! We ought to be careful with it. That's the first one we've had of her for ten years. No, it ain't in the bottom of the trunk, I just looked there. Seems to me, though, that everybody else's is there. Don't suppose it's behind the piano, do you? Well, let's see. Yes sir, by jing, here it is. I suppose somebody's knocked it over and didn't notice. Well, it's sure in sorry shape now. I'm just goin' to take it down to Rigdon's Studio and have it fixed up and framed, then I know it will be kept in good shape, and I guess I'll take some of the others there in the trunk, too, and have them framed, so's we can look at 'em once in a while. TEN YEARS AGO

The Following Items Appeared in the Huntington Beach News of Jan. 24, 1908.

The harbor celebration at Newport last Saturday was a great success. About 150 representative citizens from Los Angeles, Santa Ana and Huntington Beach were present. The occasion was the visit of the congressional committee on rivers and harbors, that is now inspecting the various harbors of the Pacific coast. The speakers were Byron Oliver and Rev. E. J. Harper of Los Angeles, Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana, and E. Rubino of Huntington Beach. Mr. Rubino was introduced as being a personal friend of Roosevelt, who is in touch with the war department. Those attending as representatives of the Huntington Beach Board of Trade were: T. B. Talbert, W. D. Seely, E. Rubino, E. C. Wright, J. B. Heartwell, W. J. Althaver, O. W. Wells and C. F. Waite.

The Huntington Beach Co. is preparing to replant the carnation beds. The crop this year has not been as good as last. Last year the company sold about 20,000 carnations from two acres, receiving about $200 for the crop.

The Board of Trade held a short session Monday night and discussed advertising, the library, clean-up day, and health and sanitation. In the absence of President Rosenberger, Vice-President Seely presided. Dr. Wilson is acting secretary during the absence of S. W. Price. The library is proving a big success. More than 50 books are out all the time. The committee on streets, parks and improvements was increased by the appointment of C. H. Howard and Henry Gibbs to assist Mr. Heartwell. Dr. Wilson, I. M. Clippinger and R. E. Graves were added to the advertising committee. The committee on health and sanitation had a big problem on its hands. Somebody hauled a dead cow out near the artificial lake, near Circle Park, and complaint was made. The committee was unable to locate the guilty party. Henry Gibbs thought he could identify the cow, and volunteered to investigate.

Is the Bolsa Chica Gun Club planning to make a great pleasure resort, with fresh water canals for boating and fishing, as well as duck shooting? Last Friday the new channel from Bolsa bay up to the old Freeman river was completed, but the mystery surrounding the real object of the work is unsolved. The new channel is about a mile and a half long and extends nearly to Wintersburg, nearly 3,000 feet being on the right-of-way of the Bolsa drainage district. It is 35 feet wide and five and a half feet deep, and crosses the old channel, which was 10 feet wide and four feet deep, five times. The dredger was built on the bay last summer and has been working since October at an expense of $40 a day. Owners of about 1200 out of the 5000 acres in the district claim the work has damaged their land.

The Orange County Celery Growers' Association has received from its selling agent, the California Vegetable Union, $130,000 for December celery shipments. Returns will be sent to growers at the rate of 13.9 cents per dozen for No. 1, and 9 cents for No. 2. The returns for November were 11.05 and 8 cents. The shipments this week averaged 25 cars daily.

Members of the Baptist church gave John A. Flaws, superintendent of the Sunday school, a surprise party at his home Monday night. Rev. Ronald McKillop made a pastoral call while the crowd gathered at J. R. Ramsey's. Pop corn and nuts were served and games were played until a late hour. E. C. Wright made a short talk on the duties of the superintendent; Mrs. W. L. McKenney spoke on the work of teachers, and the pastor on the relation of the church to the Sunday school. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Rosenberger, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sholly, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Sundbye, Rev. and Mrs. McKillop, Mrs. Chas. R. Nutt, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKenney, Mrs. Lindner, Miss Beatrice McKenney, Miss Helen Nutt, E. C. Wright, Miss Cummings, Claude and Merle Ramsey, Will Preston.

At the request of business men the Huntington Beach concert band will give weekly concerts at the pavilion, beginning next Sunday.

C. W. Warner has just completed remodeling the armory building at Wintersburg for W. F. Harris. The building is 60x100 feet, and the ground floor will contain a store room 33x90, with barber shop, reading and living rooms in the rear. Mr. Warner has also built a cottage for Frank Ulrich of Wintersburg.

Last Saturday the High school basketball teams played their last league games. Both games were played with teams from the Fullerton High school. The girls played the first game, and by consistent work won from the Fullerton girls by 18 to 14. The Fullerton boys never had a chance after the game was ten minutes old, and the final score was 22 to 35 in favor of Huntington Beach. The boys won the Orange county league championship by winning four straight games. The crowd at the games was very small. Hugo Lamb, the veteran guard, did not play Saturday, but his place was filled by Leo Livernash, who played a very good game. Captain Hall was not at all well, and Thomson had a sprained wrist. Newland and Blodget played their positions very well.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank, Thursday, the following were elected: President, A. L. Reed; vice-president, W. T. Newland; cashier, S. L. Blodget; assistant cashier, R. E. Graves; directors, S. Townsend, A. L. Reed, C. W. Sawyer, H. S. Hazeltine, S. L. Blodget, S. P. Vickers, C. H. Howard, W. T. Newland, J. F. Heartwell, D. M. Cate and T. B. Talbert. Officers of the Savings Bank are: President, W. T. Newland; vice-president, J. F. Corbett; cashier, S. L. Blodget; directors, J. F. Heartwell, J. B. Heartwell, H. S. Hazeltine, S. Townsend, S. W. Price, C. H. Howard, R. Courreges and J. M. Cain.

BEET SEED CROP OF 1917 LARGER; ACREAGE LESS.

TOTAL PRODUCTION PLACED AT 5,546,000 POUNDS.

(From "Facts About Sugar.")

The sugar beet seed production of the United States during the year 1917 is reported by the Department of Agriculture at 5,546,000 pounds, an increase of 335,000 pounds, or something more than 6 per cent, over the crop of 1916. The estimate is based on preliminary returns from all the producing areas. While the seed production was larger, the acreage devoted to cultivation of seed beets was 13 per cent less than in 1916, the crop of 1917 being grown on 4,579 acres, as compared with 5,268 acres devoted to seed beets in the preceding year.

Increase in Far Western Area.

The far western states of California, Idaho and Utah were responsible for the increase in production in 1917, the other seed producing areas showing a decrease. In these three states the crop last year was 2,458,000 pounds, according to the department's returns, as against 1,628,000 pounds in 1916, a gain of 51 per cent. The acreage devoted to seed production in these states was 2,523, as compared with 2,178 in the year before, an increase of 15 per cent.

In the other great seed producing area, embracing the states of Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska and Montana, the seed crop of 1917 was 12½ per cent smaller in 1917 than in 1916, the figures being 3,030,000 pounds for last year and 3,445,000 pounds for the year before. In 1916 this territory produced 66 per cent of the country's total seed crop, while last year its production was only 54.5 per cent of the total. The acreage devoted to seed beets decreased in this territory from 2,725 acres in 1916 to 1,978 acres in 1917, a decrease of nearly 28 per cent.

Michigan-Ohio Crop Small.

Beet seed production in Michigan and Ohio in 1917 was only 58,000 pounds, as compared with 128,000 pounds in 1916, a falling off of more than half. The area in seed beets in these states decreased from 365 acres in 1916 to only 78 acres last year.

In point of production per acre, the Colorado-Kansas-Nebraska - Montana territory made the best showing, obtaining an average of 1,532 pounds of seed to the acre, as against an average of 974 pounds to the acre for California, Idaho and Utah, and an average of 744 pounds to the acre for Michigan and Ohio. The Great Western Sugar Company and the United States Beet Seed Company were the country's largest producers.

SEA GULL PICKS UP BAIT KNIFE ON WHARF.

BRINGS IT BACK AFTER DISCOVERING THE MISTAKE.

(Newport News.)

The strangest fish story on record is being told by some of the boys, who were out on the pier Wednesday afternoon, and they swear by all that is holy that the story is absolutely true. A sea gull, evidently mistaking a pearl-handled bait knife for a sardine, picked the knife up in its bill and flew out on the water. After making several attempts to swallow the supposed fish, the bird flew back on the wharf, poised for a moment on the railing, and then dropped the knife in almost the same spot where it was picked up.

There were quite a number on the wharf who saw the incident, and, while they admit the story savors of fishiness, they insist that it was an actual fact. Some of those who vouch for the truthfulness of the tale are Frank Nafzgar, Frank Claudina and J. W. Burns, none of whose word we would question. The theory is that the bird was filled with remorse upon discovering that it was a thief, and, suffering from contrition, it returned the knife to its rightful owner. The knife was owned by John Bernhard of Ontario, who also vouches for the truthfulness of the story.

Section 5. All inspections of the weights of bread shall be made by averaging the weight of not less than twenty-five loaves of bread, of any one unit, and of five dozen rolls of any one unit, and such average weight per loaf or roll shall not be less than the minimum, nor more than the maximum weight prescribed by these regulations for such units.

Section 6. Every person, firm or corporation who shall make or procure for the purpose of sale, offer or expose for sale, any bread in the City of Huntington Beach, when requested by a buyer of bread, shall, in the presence of such buyer, weigh the loaf or loaves of bread.

Section 9. If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance, in that the Board of Trustees of the City of Huntington Beach declares that it would have passed this Ordinance and each section, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.
